RUSO-POLISH TROUBLES SHOW POSTWAR AIMS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

It's becoming clear that the Russo-Polish acrimony have a meaning which thus far hasn't been displayed officially on the world's bulletin-boards, but which might better be understood in Allied circles for the good of all concerned.

The idea that the two countries are at logger-heads as the result of falling into a Boche propaganda-trap doesn't quite make sense. After all, they're grown up and know their way about.

Rather it would seem that Moscow and the Polish government-in-exile (in London) are in process of trying to whittle each other down to the size which will fit their respective views of what post-war eastern Europe should be. In short, there is in the offing—or so I believe—a sizeable boundary dispute. And that won't be the only one which will have to be settled after the conflict.

The Polish government-in-exile, headed by Premier Sikorski, apparently has read trouble in the writing on the wall—and with good reason, for it will be an amazing thing if Europe is reconstructed along its old lines. Britain's Prime Minister Churchill the other day promised the restoration of a "great and independent Poland." Premier Stalin of Russia followed with a statement that he favored establishment of a strong and independent Polish state after the war.

Strategic Areas

Now, you'd think that such declarations would clear the matter up and make everybody happy. But there seems to be something missing from both these statements. Neither says that the post-war Poland will be territorially the same Poland as existed before the war. It might even be bigger than the old Poland, but there is no guarantee that it will be identical.

The consensus among observers seem to be that Russia is likely to insist on numerous territorial readjustments for defensive purposes. There's no indication that Moscow wants more territory merely for the sake of swelling the size of the already mammoth union, but there are several strategic areas for which it might be expected to ask.

Other Shifts

For instance, it will be strange if the Reds don't claim the zones taken from Finland in 1940. Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania may be expected to be taken back into the Russian fold. And the Russians didn't take over eastern Poland for nothing, when Hitler started his war. Then, too, they likely will reclaim Bessarabia, and demand control not only of the mouth of the Danube in Rumania but other strategic points on the Black sea coast, probably including the great Rumanian naval base of Constanta.

Those are a few of the things which may happen. Similar reshuffling may be expected in many parts of the world to ensure Allied security. Take for example the Japanese mandated islands which the Mikado's little men fortified—contrary to terms of the grant by the League of Nations—and used against the Allies. Those islands certainly can't be left in possession of Tokyo. Nippon surely will lose both Korea and Manchuria.

No Cause For Anguish

Mussolini's African empire is shot to pieces. He will lose Albania, which will regain its independence. And presumably the Italian islands off the coast of Asia minor will be taken from him for military reasons.

So one could go on and find many places where there probably will be readjustments in an effort to make this a safer world to live in. We might as well make up our minds to that in advance. Changes which really go to make for peace or justice should cause no anguish anywhere.

Festival Crowd

Gives $50.93 To R.C.

The collection which was received at the Spring Music festival at the Gettysburg high school on Friday evening amounted to $50.93, it was announced today by E. S. Longacker, band leader, who with Miss Dorothy E. Brindle, music supervisor, directed the band and chorus program.

The entire collection will be turned over to the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross, it was announced. No admission was charged to the concert which attracted an

The engagement of Miss Estella Clapsaddle, Orrtanna R. 1, and Pvt. Charles L. McGlaughlin, Fairfield, was announced Saturday evening at a party held at the home of a brother of Private McGlaughlin in Fairfield.

Miss Clapsaddle is employed at the Glenn L. Martin company, Baltimore while Private McGlaughlin, who enlisted in April, 1942, is a member of the Armored division at Camp Cook, California. He left Sunday evening to return to camp after a short furlough sent at his home here. No date was set for the wedding.

DEATHS

Mrs. Mary S. Shoemaker, 85, widow of D. M. Shoemaker and a native of Cumberland township, died Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock at her home near Sykesville, Maryland. She had been in failing health for some time and two weeks ago suffered a fracture of a hip in a fall which aggravated her condition.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William G. Black, she was born in Cumberland township and lived in this county until after her marriage when she moved to Maryland. Her husband died about five years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Mattie Shoemaker, at home; a son, John, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Bennett, near Sykesville, and a son Erman W. Shoemaker, clerk of the courts of Carroll county; two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Three brothers also survive: John W. Black, Cumberland township; Irvin B. Black, Mt. Joy township, and George P. Black, Baltimore street, Gettysburg's assistant postmaster.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home with interment in the cemetery of Messiah Lutheran church, near Sykesville.

Samuel H. Sentz

Samuel H. Sentz, 80, Hanover, died Saturday morning at 3:20 o'clock, at the Hanover General hospital, where he had been admitted as a patient Tuesday morning.

Mr. Sentz was a son of the late Peter and Eliza Wolf Sentz, and was born April 19, 1863. He was affiliated with Hanover Lodge, No. 227, Loyal Order of Moose. His wife, who before marriage was Ella Wierley, preceded him in death.

Surviving are one son, Capt. Irvin H. Sentz, stationed at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.; two grandchildren; three brothers, Arthur Sentz, Littlestown; Nathaniel Sentz, Littlestown, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Miller, Gettysburg. Funeral was held this afternoon with services conducted at 2 o'clock at the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover. The Rev. Dr. Harry Beideman, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran church, officiated. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover.

Mrs. Charles E. Hilbert

Mrs. Alberta Ellen Hilbert, 57, wife of Charles E. Hilbert, Hanover, died at her home Friday evening at 8 o'clock after an illness of three months. She was a daughter of the late Amos and Sarah Peterman Lehigh, Abbottstown. Mrs. Hilbert was a member of the Church of the Brethren.

Surviving are her husband, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Charles Harding, Hanover; Mrs. William Anthony, Hanover R. 2; Clayton Lehigh, Paul E. Lehigh and S. M. Lehigh, all of Hanover R. 3; Charles W. Lehigh, Mt. Joy; and Allen J. Lehigh, Hanover. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with short services at the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Hanover, and further rites in Mummert's Meeting House, near East Berlin, in charge of Elders J. Monroe Danner, J. E. Myers and Jacob M. Stauffer, Brethren ministers. Interment in the Mummert's Meeting House cemetery.

NEW OPA PRICE RULES IN FORCE IN CITY AREAS

(By The Associated Press)

New maximum prices on a number of foods were in effect today in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh metropolitan areas, and the Office of Price Administration planned similar orders to be in effect soon in other communities throughout the state.

The prices, made public by OPA yesterday, covered 17 major food items in the Philadelphia area which included all Pennsylvania communities within a 20-mile radius of the city. At Pittsburgh, the order was effective in nine southwestern counties, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Greene, Lawrence, Washington and Westmoreland.

OPA did not specify when other orders would be issued in the state, but indicated they would come soon, some of them possibly this week.

Compulsory Terms

The new regulations, replacing price ceilings based on retail selling prices on specified base dates, set forth maximum amounts which retailers might charge for the foods, listing them not only by types but in many cases by specific brand names. The agency pointed out that the ceilings were maximums, and that stores bound to lower prices under the old system must retain them, with any stores selling above the specified figures compelled to drop their prices to that level.

In both districts, the list of items included bread, butter, packaged cheese, sugar, cereals, milk (all types), peanut butter, canned fish, coffee. The Pittsburgh list contained additional items, and at Philadelphia an OPA spokesman said that a mixup had caused deletion of some items from the previously prepared list.

troops that remain are concentrated on the Cap Bon Peninsula."

(This suggested that the Germans and Italians on the southern front had left its defense to rear guards in a rush northeastward to the doubtful haven of the peninsula and a union with survivors of the Tunis-Bizerte campaign.)

Big Shots Flee

(Both the German and the Italian high commands told of the surrender of the German and Italian troops pocketed below Bizerte, but said they fought until their ammunition was spent in a vain battle against fresh and highly superior tank formations which operated with strong air support.)

(An Algiers radio broadcast recorded in London said 64,000 prisoners had been taken, 42,000 Axis troops killed or wounded and 330 tanks, 500 guns and 4,000 trucks destroyed or captured.)

(A Stockholm dispatch quoted the Voelkischer Beobachter, Hitler's newspaper, as saying that both Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim, the German chieftains, had left Africa, placing the Axis command in the hands of the Italian Gen. Giovanni Messe, who led Mussolini's first expeditionary force to the Russian front.)

Fire Drills Start Tuesday Evening

Fire Chief James A. Aumen announced today that weekly fire drills will be held beginning Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Firemen are asked to assemble at the engine house on East Middle street at that hour to make the first tests this year of fire hydrants in the borough.

The fire chief said he plans to continue the weekly tests on Tuesday evenings, probably using two pumps each evening. All fire hydrants in the town are to be tested.

Upper Communities

Mr. and Mrs. George Inskip and daughter, Anita, Biglerville, spent the week-end with Mrs. Inskip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denton Miller, Hanover R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hildebrand and daughters, Clara Lou and Lola Ann, York, spent the week-end with Mrs. Hildebrand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roth, Biglerville.

A. C. Harold Shank, Nashville, Tennessee, is spending a 12-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Shank, Guernsey.

Ellis McCracken, Biglerville, visited in Washington, D. C., over the week-end.

Open House Day will be observed by the Biglerville schools Friday.

Major and Mrs. Clarence Hartman and daughter, Dorothy, Harrisburg, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bream at their home near Biglerville.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Lower and daughter, Kathryn Ann, Waynesboro, spent Sunday with Dr. Lower's mother, Mrs. Elson G. Lower, Table Rock. Harry Lower, Lansdale, spent the week-end at the Lower home.

Joanna Meyer, a member of the junior class at Biglerville high school, was one of three prize winners in a district essay contest including 11 counties on "The Spiritual Legacy of Thomas Jefferson." The contest was a state-wide affair with the state being divided into nine districts.

Ten students from Biglerville high school competed under the direction of George Reisinger, English instructor. Essays were written during a two-hour period at school.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Rice, of Biglerville, were visitors in Harrisburg Thursday.

Mrs. Joseph Stubbs and son, Joe, of Quaker Valley, are spending today and Tuesday in Philadelphia.

PFC Daniel Heller, who is a ground mechanic stationed with the Army Air corps in South Dakota, has been spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heller, of Idaville.

Mrs. J. Russell, of near Williamsport, is spending a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stevens, Biglerville R. D.

Miss Blanche Slaybaugh and Miss Thelma Slaybaugh, of Harrisburg, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Slaybaugh, of Biglerville, Saturday evening. Another guest in the Slaybaugh home was PFC Melvin Frey, who is stationed at Harrisburg.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Slaybaugh entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Funk, of Chambersburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howland, of Shippensburg.

Deacons Elected At Love Feast

At a members' meeting of the Marsh Creek congregation of the Church of the Brethren during the all-day love feast services held Sunday, at the Ploutz church, the following were elected to the office of deacon: Cyrus Bucher, for the Gettysburg section; Lawrence Hartman, to serve the Friends' Grove group, and Dwight Sites at Ploutz.

Elder J. I. Thomas, pastor of the Welty congregation of near Smithsburg, Maryland, had charge of the installation services assisted by Elder W. G. Group, the former presiding elder. The new deacons will be ordained later at a special service by the laying on of hands.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas presided and officiated at the love feast proper and also preached the Self Examination service. The Rev. Elmer Schlitt, presiding elder of the Monocacy Church of the Brethren, assisted at the communion services. Mrs. Thomas was the chorister during the day.

Public Members Of WLB Panels Told

Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—The Regional War Labor board announced today the appointment of public members of panels which will hear dispute cases between employers and employees in 16 Pennsylvania areas.

Some of the appointees, the board said, already have acted in disputes although no announcement of their appointment previously has been made. Labor and industry members will be announced later.

Those named included the Rev. T. B. Johnson, Chambersburg, and the Rev. A. S. Meck, York.

APRIL RELIEF DROP

Harrisburg, May 10 (AP)—A net decline of 3,586 relief cases in April —262 in the week ending May 1—was the sharpest monthly drop since last November, the Public Assistance department reported and added the present total of 166,972 cases represents 271,256 persons receiving either general assistance, aid to dependent children, old age or blind pensions.

OPA Cuts Profit Margins On Foods

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The OPA cut profit margins today on grocery store sales of cabbage, onions and some poultry, and also reduced prices of salt codfish.

These were the latest steps in the avowed effort of OPA Chief Prentiss M. Brown to bring down the cost of living, the major feature of which is a plan of subsidies designed to bring on June 1 a 10 per cent cut in the retail cost of beef, veal, lamb, mutton, coffee and butter.

Today marked the effective date of community-wide price ceilings made public over the week-end in 130 metropolitan areas. These lists constitute no change in the legal cost of groceries, by themselves—except in some exceptional cases—but they provide housewives with official information in checking on the legality of prices charged by stores.

This week, too, OPA has announced plans to set new beef, veal, lamb and mutton prices on a regional basis—temporary prices pending the subsidy plan—to fix new ceilings on soap, and to list community canned goods prices.

OLD CLAIM PAID

Harrisburg, May 10 (AP)—A $10,000 appropriation for Mrs. Olga Schwarz of Scranton in payment of a moral claim against the commonwealth was approved and sent to Governor Martin by the Legislature yesterday.

The claim arose out of the death of Mrs. Schwarz's husband in 1909 and the now aged woman has lobbied for years to have it recognized by the state.

Hospital Report

Admissions to the Warner hospital over the week-end include Mrs. Charles B. Smith, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Kenneth Benner, Littlestown; Mrs. Franklin Newell, Jr., Orrtanna; Peggy Ann Gilbert, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. George Ackerson, Chambersburg street; Mrs. Ellen S. Baker, Gettysburg R. 5; Harry Fohl, Biglerville, and Mrs. Stanley Slonaker, Fairfield R. 1.

Those discharged were Mrs. John Black and infant daughter, Linda Lee, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Russell H. Barbour and infant son, Robert Eugene, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Peter Shockley, Taneytown; Richard Wolfe East Berlin R. 1; Mrs. William B. Stansbury and infant son, William Heyser, 60 East Middle street, and Mrs. Eugene Albright and infant daughter, Suzanne Belle, Gettysburg R. 1.

CONCLUDES TRAINING

Corporal Charles W. Harbaugh, son of Mrs. M. J. Harbaugh, 426 West Middle street, was graduated recently from the Chaute Field school of the Army Air Forces Technical Training command, Chanute Field, Illinois. While at Chanute Field he was trained in various technical operations vital to the maintenance of the county's fighting planes.

HOBBY SLOGAN

Providence, R. I., May 10 (AP)—Digging through a hobby-collection of postmarks, Dr. S. L. Gants of Providence came up with these five: Purchase (N. Y.) War (W. Va.) Bond (Colo.) Orr (Okla.) Stamps (Ark.)

"YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT NOW DO YOUR BEST!"

DURING the first year of our toughest war, we—

Trained millions of fighting men—made millions of dollars worth of fighting tools—built millions of tons of shipping to carry these men and tools to the fighting fronts.

And to help pay for it all, we bought War Bonds. Altogether, 50 millions of us bought War Bonds. And nearly 30 millions of us started putting, on the average, 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds every payday through the Payroll Savings Plan.

That was a good start—a whale of a good start. But every American knows that it was only a start. Nobody would contend for a single instant that what we did in '42 is enough for '43!

Did we make 48,000 planes last year? Believe it or not—we did. But we've got to make 100,000 this year! Sure! We broke every record in the world last year, building 8 million tons of shipping. But everybody knows that the 18 million tons we're building this year isn't enough!

We've got to do more fighting this year. We've got to do more building, more training, more shipping—and more saving.

We've got to buy more War Bonds.

Is that too much to ask? Many of us are making more money than we have made for years. The things we'd like to buy with that money have either disappeared or are as "scarce as hen's teeth." So, why not put that money into War Bonds at good interest—$4 for every $3 when the Bonds mature? Money to help pay for the war—keep prices down—provide peacetime jobs and peacetime goods and a generally decent world for all of us when the war is won.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. See if you can't boost your ante! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant payrolls, nearly 30 millions of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up tomorrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10 percent of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10 percent yet—keep trying!)

BUT...

America's income this year will be the highest in history: about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest not 10 percent or 15 percent or 20 percent, but all we can!

MEMORIES

These are bits from memory's pages of the years that lie before:

The bush of purple lilacs at the mother's kitchen door.
The hollyhocks she planted at the back fence of the lot;
Her rose bush, run to timber, since to prune it she forgot;My first small coop for pigeons, with its entrance through the shed,
And the joy I had in fantails and in tumblers overhead.

Was our boyhood then more crowded than is boyhood of today?

Does the modern youngster ever hitch a ride upon a sleigh?

Has he ever known the glory of a pony of his own?

Is the thrill of raising rabbits to a city boy unknown?

Have the motion pictures banished many joys I used to know

In the years when I was living every day a picture show?

It was marbles in the springtime; it was skates and kites and tops.

Then the fanciest of the candies that we had were chocolate drops.

In the days before the motor I was proud and blithe of heart

When the butcher or the grocer let me drive his horse and cart.

Looking back upon my boyhood to a man I'm sure I grew

LOYALTY

Change and mental confusion are tremendous challengers of loyalty. It is comparatively easy to be loyal to a person when all is pleasant and undisturbed, but the test comes when one's own personal interests are concerned.

Leaders, in all phases of life, demand loyalty. On the battlefield these days this is highly emphasized. It is not enough to be loyal through a sense of duty. The finest loyalty is a result of invitation. I was interested in a statement by one who recently wrote about General MacArthur. He said, "It's easy to be loyal to MacArthur—because he's so loyal to you." His aides and subordinates have a tremendous admiration and love for the man, beyond that of a great soldier. No wonder he is able to achieve so much with so little!

There is in the Inner Sanctum of every human being a silent sense of loyalty that is reserved for all those who deserve it. Those who invite it, get it.

That which has endeared the domestic dog to human beings, throughout all ages, has been its deathless loyalty. Do with him what you will—even neglect and abuse him—and he comes back, looking up in the eye, with that honest, questioning way that he alone has, as though to say: "Why be unkind to one who gives to you all that he is and has?"

Another characteristic, that has contributed to the great fame of General MacArthur, has been his habit of going to his headquarters late in the morning, after his subordinates have had time to clear the decks, as it were, making it possible then for him to enter into the more important problems of the day. He has felt that this has contributed to greater efficiency on the part of his staff. This fact, no doubt, has increased the faith and confidence that are so evident in those who serve him.

When we put our unlimited faith in those who serve us, or who are our friends, their loyalty becomes unbounded. And their defense of us is never of the watery sort. There is born a loyalty of the undying kind—without quotation marks to get it off!

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

We have learned that it has been reported that the undersigned, if elected as members of the town council, would use their influence to have water brought into the borough at the expense of the citizens. This report is untrue; no such intention is entertained by any one of us, nor to our knowledge is it in contemplation at all to supply the town with water in the manner indicated in the report. Mr. Harper will oblige us by making the above public.

New Drug Store: Dr. James Cress, formerly of this place, has opened a new drug store in Littlestown, and will keep on hand everything usually found in a first class establishment.

Sold: Messrs. Fahnestock and Eichelberger have sold their farm, in Cumberland township, west of Seminary Ridge, 145 acres, to Messrs. Emerson and Hamilton, of New York, for $65 per acre. The gentlemen represent the Gettysburg Springs company.

George E. Bringham, Esq., of Gettysburg, has sold his Forge property to Jacob Reiley, of Gettysburg, and George E. Smyser, of York, for $6,000.

Mr. Frederick Wolf has sold his farm, in Straban township, to Jonas Rebert at $5,000, about 104 acres.

Married: On the 3d inst., by Rev. W. K. Zieher, Mr. Simon J. Diller to Miss Ellen Albright, all of Hanover.

Bossman—Bricker—On the 5th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, near York Springs, by Rev. John Pohl, Mr. Wm. Bossman and Miss Martha A. Bricker, all of this county.

Town Improvements: On Friday, Prof. Eubrecht sold building lots opposite the Preparatory department to Mrs. Dr. Baugher and Emanuel J. Ziegler, Jr., for $300 each, and to Robert McCurdy, for $200, on all of which handsome improvements will be made.

Messrs. Fahnestock and Duncan have sold a building lot on East York street, to William F. Baker, for $150. Jacob Benner and Son intend building two houses on Washington street.

David Sterner has sold to Jacob Sheads, two lots on corner of Stratton and Railroad streets for $550 cash.

We glean the following from the Compiler:

Chambersburg street—E. H. Minnigh's house is finished, and John Gruel's nearly so. Both are decided improvements, with an attractive city look.

Geo. H. Swope has commenced the erection of a two-story frame building adjoining Dr. Tate.

Henry McDannell is about to build a two-story frame dwelling, near the end of the street.

York street—On this street the only improvement we notice is that of Simon Codori's house. He has remodeled the front and repaired throughout.

Carlisle street—John Reiling is about erecting a shoemaker shop adjoining S. R. Tipton.

On the Munnasburg road, near the college, Geo. E. Kitzmiller has commenced the erection of a neat two-story frame dwelling.

Washington street—Peter Thorn has fitted up the property on the corner of South Washington and High streets, for a bakery.

Joseph Wible is about to erect a large warehouse on the corner of Washington and Railroad streets.

Intensive

Axis Preparations
TO STRENGTHEN
ITS OWN COAST

London, May 10 (AP)—Intensive Axis preparations to ward off any Allied invasion attempt along the soft underbelly of Europe were reported underway from the south coast of France to the Black sea today as the German-Italian debacle in north Africa entered its final phases.

Although Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini seemed particularly concerned over the prospects of an Allied drive through southern Europe, reports from Holland indicated that the Axis was not overlooking the possibility of an assault across the English channel.

All of Holland was placed under martial law last night, the Netherlands news agency Aneta reported, and Dutch sources were convinced the action was taken by the Germans in an effort to forestall any armed outbreak in connection with an Allied invasion.

Himmler Goes To Balkans

Heightening Axis fears, 400 Allied planes raided the Sicilian harbor of Palermo yesterday on the third anniversary of Hitler's invasion of the lowlands, leaving that important base flaming and smoking under the heaviest aerial onslaught of the Mediterranean campaign.

In the Balkans, German troops were being moved southward through Hungary at a rate comparable to that preceding the Axis attack on Greece and Yugoslavia, according to travelers from Europe arriving at Ankara. Stockholm dispatches reported Germany was sending modern weapons to bolster Bulgarian defenses.

Nazi Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler has hurried to the Balkans to demand the suppression of German opposition and the deportation of all opposition leaders, it was reported from Geneva by Tass, official Russian news agency.

Using Greek Labor

German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, previously reported to have left north Africa to take charge in the Balkans, was said by London newspapers to have ordered a speed-up of new construction by Greek forced labor. The newspapers reported that Rommel also had ordered the construction of new strategic highways between Bulgaria and Greece.

At the southwestern end of Hitler's conquered territory, the German labor corps was rushing construction of new anti-invasion defenses along the French Mediterranean, according to a German broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, which also disclosed that the key French port of Le Havre had been ordered evacuated. Tass quoted German newspapers reaching Stockholm that mass arrests have been made at Vichy for "underground subversive activity," and that special identification cards have been issued to the populations of prohibited zones on the French-Spanish frontier.

Giraud Cautions French

The invasion theme, though in a different note, also was sounded yesterday by Gen. Henri Giraud, who told his French homeland in a broadcast from Algiers that "tomorrow the European fortress will be attacked." He warned that the struggle would be "hard and perhaps long."

"Don't be impatient," he cautioned Frenchmen. "Don't give pretexts for savage and bloody repression. Wait until we are ready to strike together."

And in Italy, where millions of Italians were summoned to observances of Army and Empire Day, Gen. Attilio Teruzzi, minister of Italian Africa that no longer exists, warned that Italy's whole future was at stake and said "we will fight to the last drop of blood."

PRIEST DIES

Cresson, Pa., May 10 (AP)—The Rev. Fr. John J. Brady, 70, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church here and a former pastor at Salisbury and Meyersdale, died Saturday. Funeral services will be held at Cresson Wednesday.

LOWER AGE LIMIT

Harrisburg, May 10 (AP)—A bill permitting youths of 16 and 17 to engage in amateur wrestling and boxing matches was signed into law by Governor Martin. The former age limit was 18 years.

The building will be used in the forwarding business. James Foster sold to Samuel Koser, a lot of ground, fronting on Washington street.

Mr. Foster also sold a half lot to Rev. Mr. Jamison, adjoining the above.

Samuel Little has finished a weather-boarded house opposite the college campus.

On the same side of the street, Wm. T. Ziegler has commenced the erection of a two-story frame dwelling.

East Middle street—Wm. C. Strick-houser has erected a two-story frame house, near the corner of Stratton.

Levi Mumper has just finished a two-story frame back building to his residence, opposite the Methodist church.

Flashes of Life

TIME TURNS BACKWARD

Philadelphia (AP)—The Society for the Detection of Horse Thieves and the Recovery of Stolen Horses has a job.

Organized more than 100 years ago, the society has done little during the last 20 years except hold annual dinners. But when three horses were stolen from a West Philadelphia riding academy the SDHTRSH perked up.

Half of the society's historic obligation was discharged by police who found the horses, unharmed. A report on detection of the culprits is awaited from ex-Blacksmith Luther Parsons, octogenarian president of the SDHTRSH.

SUBSTITUTE

Goldsboro, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. J. C. Parks sold her automobile but her garage wasn't vacant long. The next day she found a mule in it.

Now the police have it, and will give it away if they can't find the owner.

PERSEVERANCE

Oakland, Calif. (AP)—The British State department wouldn't permit Alice Dunn to enter England to marry Capt. George E. Harvey of the British Army.

So she married the captain by proxy. Still no British-approved passport.

Undaunted, she landed a job with an English firm.

She got her passport.

25-LB. LIMIT ON
CANNING SUGAR

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today fixed a top limit of 25 pounds of sugar per person for home canning and freezing of this year's fruit crop.

Except for the specific maximum, sugar for home canning will be allocated on substantially the same basis as last year—one pound of sugar for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product.

With the 25 pound limit, any family may apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies, and preserves at the rate of five pounds per person. Beginning May 15, rationing boards throughout the country will receive applications under the new regulation. No special form is required, unless it is planned to sell the home product, and applications may be made in person or by mail.

Limit on Gifts

Each applicant must furnish a copy of War Ration Book No. 1 for each person for whom home-canning sugar is sought, the total number of quarts or pounds to be put up, and the amount of sugar to be used for making jams and jellies.

Home canners may make gifts of both fruits and vegetables, but no person may give away more than 50 quarts. Any gifts in excess of that amount and all sales can be made only by the collection of blue stamps at the rate of 8 points per quart.

Ask For Local
OPA Enforcement

Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—Authority for local peace officers to punish violators of OPA price ceiling regulations is being asked of Congress by the Steel City Industrial Union Council (CIO) as a means of holding down living costs.

The union group, declaring that court delays in handling price ceiling cases have brought about rising living costs, said in a resolution the OPA "has cited many large companies with hundreds of counts of violations before the federal courts," but that "because of no convictions and a long delay in the prosecution of violators, the prices continue to soar."

The council urged that any magistrate, alderman, justice of the peace or similar official be given the right to try such cases, and suggested a fine of $100 and a jail sentence of 60 days for each offense.

New President For Allegheny College

Meadville, Pa., May 10 (AP)—Dr. John Richie Schultz today assumed his new duties as president of Allegheny college—the first layman to head the Methodist institution and also the first faculty member ever elevated to the presidency.

Doctor Schultz, acting president since September, 1942, and an educational figure at Allegheny college for more than a quarter century, was elected president following the spring meeting of college trustees at Pittsburgh Saturday. He succeeds Dr. William Pearson Tolley, who resigned to become chancellor of Syracuse university. The new president is a native of Canton, Missouri.

MARTIN'S AIMS ARE REALIZED

Harrisburg, May 10 (AP)—The 1943 Pennsylvania Legislature before it adjourned approved a majority of Governor Martin's recommendations for needed legislation.

The Governor asked for and got:

1. A tax reduction of more than $45,000,000.

2. A commonwealth budget reduced from $619,588,331 in the current biennium to $496,757,692 for the next two years.

3. A shift in methods of computing corporate net income levies, with state taxes payable before similar federal imposts.

More Home Rule

4. Easing methods of paying taxes.

5. A planning commission to prepare for the peace reconstruction era. And a $50,000,000 bond issue for post-war projects.

6. Elimination of governmental costs of operation.

7. Congressional reapportionment.

8. Strengthened powers of local government.

9. Greater latitude in banking inspections.

10. Regulations enabling greater use of school children for emergency farm work.

11. Inclusion of municipal-operated hospitals in 1937 act authorizing the state to take over county-operated hospitals.

12. Elimination of some powers of the parole board.

Requests Refused

The chief executive asked for but did not get:

1. Return of administration relief to the counties.

2. Confirmation of Dr. Frank Parker of Philadelphia to the Public Utility commission.

3. Authorization for construction of a veterans memorial building in Harrisburg.

4. Senatorial and legislative reapportionment.

5. Return of state-owned mental hospitals to counties.

Full Production
Resumed In Mines

Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—Full production was resumed in the soft coal fields again today following a return to the pits of the remainder of more than 3,000 miners in two states who struck in protest against company fines of $1-a-day for unauthorized work stoppages preceding the general shutdown May 1.

Five hundred men at the Shanopin mine of the Jones &amp; Laughlin Steel corporation at Bobtown, Pa., returned to their jobs with the 7 a. m. shift today. Fourteen hundred workers at another J. &amp; L. mine near California, Pa., ended their strike Saturday.

In Ohio work had also resumed at two large mines employing 1,200 men.

Urge Rationing Of Liquor To Cut Bribes

Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—Rationing of whiskey in Pennsylvania, as a means "to discourage the offering of bribes to liquor store clerks" has been suggested by officers of District 3, State, County and Municipal Workers Union (CIO).

Jack Strobel, SCMW District 3 president, said Sunday that reports of attempted bribing had been received by his office and added that such a practice "places temptation in the path of the clerks" and could "bring about a black market in whiskey."

Rationing, he said, would assure everybody of getting whiskey, even if in reduced amounts, and would end the bribery attempts.

The council urged that any magistrate, alderman, justice of the peace or similar official be given the right to try such cases, and suggested a fine of $100 and a jail sentence of 60 days for each offense.

The Eagle was built for the Maritime commission in Sun's yard No. 4, manned entirely by negroes. Mrs. Stevenson, a negro, employed by the firm for 22 years, was selected to christen the ship and receive a $1,000 war bond, gift of the company.

TRUSTWORTHY MEN

Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, recently returned from a tour of camps and battlefronts in north Africa, says men now in the armed forces will largely control the political affairs of post-war America. "I would rather trust these men than any other group I can imagine," he told his congregation at Baptist temple yesterday.

Of the 92 elements, only 13 appear to any important degree in the human body.

ASK PROBE OF LEGION POST

Memphis, May 10 (AP)—Suggesting its members might be "unworthy to remain members of the American Legion," National Commander Roane Waring has asked an "immediate investigation" of a resolution adopted by the Legion's South Fork (Pa.) Post 653 criticizing him for his denunciations of John L. Lewis.

In a telegram to Daniel C. Hartbauer, of Pittsburgh, Legion commander in Pennsylvania, Waring said:

"If upon investigation it is found that the membership of this post has strayed so far from the Legion's conception of patriotism and Americanism as to put the interest of * * * (Lewis) ahead of the interest of their country at war, they are not fit to remain members of the American Legion and steps should be taken immediately to remove them."

"Sorriest Spectacle"

Waring's telegram quoted the resolution passed by the post at Johnstown:

"We apologize to Mr. (John L.) Lewis and to the nation for our part in placing * * * Roane Waring in office. It has been with mixed emotions of shame and disgust that we have witnessed this attack by Commander Waring on a man who has been the leader of labor's cause for twenty-six years."

Waring, in a discussion of the home front situation Thursday night at Indianapolis, said Lewis' "No Trespassing" order to members of the United Mine Workers was "the sorriest spectacle that a nation at war ever faced."

PARTIES BATTLE ON RECIPROCAL TRADE RENEWAL

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The New Deal's reciprocal trade agreement program, long the target of Republican criticism, came up for a party-line battle on capitol hill today.

The parliamentary fight developed with the start of a two-day debate in the House on a measure to extend the administration's power to negotiate the treaties without congressional approval.

The present reciprocal trade act, originally enacted in 1934, expires next June 12.

Republicans, contending the act deprives congress of its constitutional tariff and treaty-making powers by delegating such authority to the President, have proposed amendments which would give Congress the right to pass upon any trade pact within 90 days of its submission.

Blow To Future Peace

This congressional veto proposal has been strenuously opposed by the administration. Democratic leaders in Congress have maintained that it would constitute a "kiss of death" for the entire reciprocity program.

The Democrats also have contended that the trade pacts were essential not only to build world commerce but also to guarantee peace. In this they are seconding Secretary of State Hull, who told the House Ways and Means committee recently that the nation must show now its "sincerity of purpose" and willingness to bear its share of responsibility in world affairs by extending the authority to negotiate the pacts.

Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles said two days ago that repudiation of the reciprocal trade act "either outright or by crippling amendments" would be a heavy blow at hopes for future peace.

These arguments have been challenged by Republicans. The 10 Republican members of the Ways and Means committee issued a statement saying that it was "not only unfortunate, but imprudent and presumptuous" for Hull to say that the question of extension of the act by Congress was a test of American postwar foreign policy.

night of bombing and some more next day. The air attack was terrible. I would not go through it again for a million pounds. We were all cramped into two holds with scarcely sufficient air to breathe, and for the last two days there was no water on the ship. There were no sanitary arrangements and we had little food. The thing was a nightmare. We thought the casualties must be enormous—by a miracle they were not.

Arriving British troops found small boats bringing load after load of the prisoners ashore from the grounded, battle-scarred vessel, one of several wrecked by the relentless aerial pounding.

The War department said that except for the dock area, Tunis was practically undamaged by bombs. It added, however, that the docks at Tunis and at La Goulette "are a shambles" and said the airbase at El Aouina, outside Tunis, was strewn with the wreckage of at least 10 German aircraft, many large transports.

Ace Gets 10th Jap Zero In Battle

Somewhere in New Guinea, May 8 (Delayed) (AP)—The battle score of Capt. Thomas J. Lynch, Catasqua, Pa., aerial ace, climbed to 10 enemy planes today.

Lynch, flying an O-38 Lightning Fighter, was covering an attack by Allied bombers on the Jap-held port of Madang when the enemy plane appeared.

"We first saw this Zero flying along just behind one formation of B25's and just ahead of another but too far away for either formation to shoot at him," Lynch said.

"He pulled up and started for home but I caught him about 1,000 feet above the water. The fight was brief.

"He turned and came at me head-on when I got him. He began to smoke and dove straight into the water."

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

by MAXINE SHORE

Chapter 5

Penny stared at her fiancé incredulously.

"Powell," she said, "you don't mean we're just going to sit around here doing nothing for two whole weeks while my brother—while Bill—"

"Penny darling you don't understand." He rose patiently and came over to pat her shoulder. "No telling what lies between here and the half-breed's shack where your brother is. A hundred civilized miles, well—naturally that would be quite another matter. But this is wild, even dangerous country."

"If it's dangerous country," Penny burst out, "then we ought to get Bill out of it as soon as possible."

"That isn't what I meant," Powell frowned. "It's simply that travel over unfamiliar, rough terrain would be—foolhardy. When Constable Rennick returns, he'll have all the facts about the plane crash. He'll know how to get to where Bill is. He'll advise us."

Penny's chin began to tremble. "But in the meantime," she choked, "maybe Bill—"

"If Bill were in serious condition," said Powell, "he would certainly have said so in his letter."

"Not Bill!" wailed Penny. "He's the enduring-in-silence kind. He loathes sympathy. Once he had a raging toothache for days and no-body knew a thing about it until his face swelled up like a cabbage."

Powell drew her tenderly into his arms. "Poor little Penny," he said. "You're tired, dear. After a good dinner and a sleep in this bracing climate, you'll feel more like your self." He kissed her mouth.

There was a knock at the door and, Cleve came in. He was excited. He scooped up the malemute pup which came rollicking to his feet. "Guess what?"

Penny and Powell shook their heads.

"What a country!" Cleve exclaimed hilariously. "The whole blamed settlement's in an uproar. A glorious old-time tumult!"

"But why?" asked Penny.

"Over at a place called Dead Stick Creek someone found some gold nuggets and, holy heaven, all the trappers and prospectors are racing like mad to get in on the strike."

"That so?" Powell Ward's blue eyes brightened with genuine interest. "I didn't know they still did that sort of thing up here."

Cleve shrugged. "This country's lousy with wealth—gold, silver, magnesium, oil. It's North America's last frontier—the land of tomorrow."

Penny said, "It's thrilling!"

"You bet!" said Cleve. "After the war there's going to be such a rush of settlers into this land as hasn't been seen for decades—mark my words."

Powell caught some of his enthusiasm. "If this strike at Dead Stick Creek turned out to be a big strike, I might like to invest some money in it myself. How about it, Cleve? Think there might be some picture interest in it, too, possibly?"

"Might."

"We might investigate," said Powell.

"Bill! What about Bill?" cried Penny. "You're not actually thinking of going over to Dead Stick Creek instead of finding Bill, are you?"

"That's right," Cleve said soberly. "We've got Bill to consider first. I've been doing some inquiring around about the crash and this Pierre le Prene's shack."

Powell strode to the window, then came back. "You think we ought to leave here before Constable Rennick returns?"

"Man it may be two weeks!" "Yes, but if the trip took quite a while, the mounty might be off again somewhere else before we got back to the post. I'm very anxious to question him about those films."

Cleve said, "That's a chance we have to take, all right."

Powell was silent. Then he nodded. "But of course we've got to do what we can for Bill. Personally, I don't think he's seriously injured, but—"

"You mean you'll go?" Penny cried. "Oh, Powell, you darling!" She flung her arms about his neck. "I knew you would—I just knew it!"

Cleve looked at Powell and Penny. The smile on his face was half-grimace. He tumbled the wriggling puppy to the floor, and straightened.

"Three's a crowd. Suppose I go and arrange for a guide, while you two—"

"Go on with whatever you were doing when I barged in here."

Penny disengaged herself. "Let's all go," she suggested. "Besides, it's almost time for dinner and I'm suddenly starved. What do they have on the menu up here, anyway?"

"Wapiti steak and stewed bar," drawled Cleve. "And maybe, this time of year, saskatoon berry pie for dessert. On the other hand, we may only get sourdough flapjacks, beans and salt pork."

"You can't spoil my appetite," said Penny. "I could eat sawdust stewed in river mud."

Laughing, they all went downstairs. Mr. Baird wasn't anywhere around. Fragrant odors wafted encouragingly from somewhere in the back, however.

Penny wrinkled her nose. "Somebody's busy in the kitchen, anyway," she said.

The proprietor strode through the open door, greeted them, rubbing his hands.

"Big excitement up at Dead Stick Creek, all right," he said. "Figure maybe I'll take a trek over myself."

"Before you do," Cleve said, "we'd like to make arrangements for a guide to take us up to Pierre le Prene's shack where our friend is laid up."

Baird frowned. "Pierre's shack is in the opposite direction from Dead Stick, mister."

"Is it? So what?"

Baird put his big hands deep in his pockets. "So," he said, "I'm afraid there's not a chance in the

MARTIN PRAISES SESSION RECORD

Harrisburg, May 10 (AP)—A $40,000,000 increase in appropriations to schools, welfare and the war program and a $45,000,000 cut in the tax burden today were listed by Governor Martin as General Assembly achievements.

Voicing pleasure over the war-time session's record, the Governor said in a statement after final adjournment "Pennsylvania now has a post-war planning commission act which will make it possible for the commonwealth to prepare itself against post-war unemployment and to expand and develop its industries when the war ends."

He also praised legislation suspending the civil service system as benefiting "men and women now in the armed forces, the change in the parole board, the provision for an audit of the auditor general's department and the experience-rating plan to 'save Pennsylvania industries millions of dollars in unemployment compensation taxes."

The Chief Executive added: "world of your getting a guide."

"But we must have one," said Powell.

"Oh, yes!" echoed Penny desperately. "I'll pay any price," Powell said. "It's most important."

"Nobody's going to do any guiding for any price," said Baird. "As long as there's a strike within three hundred miles. Take my word for it. Sorry."

"New laws eliminating restrictions on peace time employment will allow more participation by men, women and children in the war effort."

"Liquor control laws have been strengthened. Health legislation to protect our soldiers and war workers against social diseases have been made more rigid and effective."

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—Church memorial services will be held in Washington, D. C., for Methodist Bishop Adna Wright Leonard, who died in an Iceland plane crash May 3. The services are set for 2:30 p. m. at the Foundry Methodist church. Bishop Leonard was buried in Iceland.

Hanover Succeeds Maroons As South Penn Track Champs

SACHS' ABSENCE PROVES COSTLY; MAROONS THIRD

Gettysburg high school's eight-year reign as unbeaten track champions of the Southern Pennsylvania conference came to an end Saturday when Hanover high's Night Hawks won the ninth annual event on the Shippensburg State Teachers' college field by amassing a total of 38 5-6 points.

Carlisle high took second place with 38 1-3 points with the Maroons finishing third by gaining 34 1-3 tallies. Chambersburg took fourth place with 10 1/2 points and Shippensburg was last with an even 10 points.

The Maroons received a rude jolt which probably cost them their ninth straight title when Ross Sachs was summoned to Philadelphia Saturday morning to take an examination preparatory to entering the Navy.

Sachs, whose javelin tosses and broad jumps have consistently been much better than the marks turned in at Shippensburg, was counted on heavily for at least 10 points in these events which would have given victory to the Maroons. It is extremely likely that he would have placed in the shot put.

Two Firsts
The Maroons captured two first places. George Bochner won the half-mile run and Don Wickerham raced home first in the 110-yard low hurdles.

Sebastian Hafer took second place in the half mile, McGlaughlin, Sam Stanton and Eugene Timbers grabbed second and third places in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The Maroon mile-relay team of Bochner, Hafer, Stanton and Timbers finished second. Hanover's victory in this event gave it its narrow victory over the Green Herd of Carlisle.

Gaylord Fissel tied for second place in the high jump and Wickerham took fourth place in the broad jump. John Knorr and Albert Rudisill took third in the pole vault and mile run, respectively.

The summaries follow:
120-yard low hurdles—Won by D. Wickerham; Gettysburg; second, D. McGlaughlin, Gettysburg; third, J. Allen, Chambersburg; fourth, W. Hafer, Carlisle. Winning time, 13.7.
100-yard dash—Tie between J. Shue, Hanover, and C. Williams, Carlisle; third, S. Stanton, Gettysburg; fourth, E. Timbers, Gettysburg. Winning time, 19.4.
800-yard run—Won by G. Bochner, Gettysburg; second, Hafer, Gettysburg; third, D. Groyer, Chambersburg; fourth, R. Grist, Carlisle. Winning time, 2:12.2.
220-yard dash—Won by J. Shue, Hanover; second, S. Stanton, Gettysburg; third, E. Timbers, Gettysburg; fourth, J. Gross, Hanover. Winning time, 23.9.
1/2 mile run—Won by R. Grist, Carlisle; second, W. Yingling, Hanover; third, A. Rudisill, Gettysburg; fourth, H. Hoffman, Carlisle. Winning time, 10:41.5.
1 mile relay—Won by J. Emerson, C. Hoke, C. Allevant and J. Shue, Hanover; second, Gettysburg; third, Carlisle; fourth, Chambersburg. Winning time, 3:44.
Shot put—Won by J. Washington, Carlisle; second, M. Hubley, Shippensburg; third, R. Hill, Chambersburg; fourth, C. Washington, Carlisle. Winning distance, 42 feet, 7 inches.
Pole vault—Won by W. Downes, Hanover; second, C. Williams, Carlisle; third, tie between T. Leber, Chambersburg, and J. Knorr, Gettysburg. Winning distance, 10 feet, 6 inches.
Discus throw—Won by J. Washington, Carlisle; second, W. Yost, Hanover; third, Allen, Hanover; fourth, M. Hubley, Shippensburg. Winning distance, 114 feet, 10 inches.
High jump—Won by C. Williams, Carlisle; second, tie between G. Fissel, Gettysburg, and R. Boyer, Hanover; third, tie between J. Trego, Carlisle, and W. Naill, Hanover. Winning height, 5 feet, 3 inches.
Javelin—Won by M. Hubley, Shippensburg; second, W. Hafer, Carlisle; third, Oliver, Chambersburg; fourth, D. Jacobs, Hanover. Winning distance, 140 feet, 3 inches.
Broad jump—Won by F. Heck, Hanover; second, W. Downes, Hanover; third, W. Hafer, Carlisle; fourth, D. Wickerham, Gettysburg. Winning distance, 15 feet, 3 inches.

Bill Schnure, Bucknell, broke his own 120-yard high hurdles record of 15.2 seconds to set a new meet record of 15 seconds flat.

Team scoring: 1, Muhlenberg, 46; 2, Lehigh, 44 1/2; 3, Rutgers, 43; 4, Haverford, 17 1/2; 5, Bucknell, 12 1/2; 6, Gettysburg, 10; 7, Juniata, 9; 8, Swarthmore, 8 1/2; 9, PMC, 8; 10, Lafayette and Alfred, 5; 12, St. Joseph's, 5.

ON THE LAYELLE
Idea No. 1 from our latest discussion is that the college game may not be as bad from the spectator standpoint as a lot of fellows think. On the loss of coaches and older players won't spoil the game. There'd be less finesse but a lot more enthusiasm, says Jack. Of course, that may only be true here in the east. Reports from some other sections say there won't even be many 17 and 18-year-old players on hand because the kids that age are going from high school right into the Army instead of into college. Another of Layelle's ideas is that football needs more competent coaches in the junior high schools. That's the place for the kids to learn such things as blocking and tackling. And we remember when it was the freshman coach's job to teach those things in college.

BUCHER SNARES SPRINT TITLES IN TRACK MEET

Wayne Bucher, lone entry of Gettysburg college in the 31st annual Middle Atlantic States College Athletic association track meet at Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Saturday, grabbed two first places to enable the Bullets to take sixth place in the final team standings.

Bucher won both the 220 and 440-yard events. In turning in a mark of 21.6 seconds in the 220-yard dash, Bucher equaled the meet record for the event which was set by Howard Bostick, Gettysburg sprinter, in 1915. Leconte, Lafayette, tied the mark in 1921 and W. Allen, of Rutgers, later also tied the mark.

The Bullet speedster, who last year established the meet record in the 440 by running the race in 49 seconds, sped home in 50.5 seconds in that event.

Originally the Bullets were scheduled to have five runners in the meet but only Bucher reported.

Mules Win Title
Joe Powers, last year's 100-yard sprint champion, did not appear, while George Motter, Mike Baden and Danny Monastero also failed to show up.

In addition to Bucher there was but one other double-winner, Psiaki, Muhlenberg, took the mile and two mile runs.

Muhlenberg captured the championship by piling up 46 points.

Bill Schnure, Bucknell, broke his own 120-yard high hurdles record of 15.2 seconds to set a new meet record of 15 seconds flat.

Team scoring: 1, Muhlenberg, 46; 2, Lehigh, 44 1/2; 3, Rutgers, 43; 4, Haverford, 17 1/2; 5, Bucknell, 12 1/2; 6, Gettysburg, 10; 7, Juniata, 9; 8, Swarthmore, 8 1/2; 9, PMC, 8; 10, Lafayette and Alfred, 5; 12, St. Joseph's, 5.

GOOD SCOUT
The suggestion that "informal" football may do away with a lot of scouting brings a pained look to Layelle's round face. "Scouting," he argues, "is what makes football games good. It's football's new service for the quick dissemination of information. A scout sees some new trick or a new defense, brings back the dope and the first thing you know all the coaches are trying it—if they have the material. Do you know," Jack asks, "I've actually had college coaches ask me what was meant by a looping line? How long do you think it would take them to learn things without scouting?"

PUZZLING NEW QUESTION SET UP BY TIE TILT

Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—That 3-3 game which the Sunday curfew law stopped between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pirates after nine full innings put up a puzzling new question to the National league today.

Will the game be started all over again, or will the two clubs begin in the 10th, with the score as it was when the 7 p. m. interruption came yesterday?

William E. Benswanger, president of the Pittsburgh club, was uncertain about the matter, since the situation was without precedent in Pittsburgh. He guessed it would be started from the first inning.

To Check Rules
The National league passed a rule during the winter that games halted by the curfew in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania would be resumed at a later date at the exact point where play ceased. The intent of the rule was to prevent stalling.

League President Ford Frick said in New York:

"I'll have to look up the minutes to check the exact wording. But I think the rule says it applies to games that are halted before nine innings have been completed."

League Ruling
"It is my curbstone opinion that this game would be treated like any other tie game, since it went nine innings."

Adding to the confusion of replaying the game is a league regulation that the contests are to be played off "the first day the visiting team comes back to town."

The Pirates have a night game July 15 when the World Champion Redbirds come back to town, so unless some fixing is done the two clubs may be involved in a new kind of doubleheader—starting in the daylight and winding up under the lights.

PHILS SHOWING NEW BRAND OF CLUB SPIRIT

By TED MEIER
Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—After 33-year-old Bill Cox bought the Phillies back in February everybody laughed when he insisted the team would finish sixth or higher in the National league.

"You can laugh if you want," Cox told sports writers, "but I'll bet a carton of cigarettes we'll finish at least sixth."

At this early stage of the season the Phillies president appears on the way to winning his bet. Victors in four of their last five games, the Phillies have jumped from eighth to sixth, now have won seven of 15 games.

And, an important clue to baseball prowess, they're winning the close ones. Yesterday 24,934 fans, the biggest early season crowd ever to watch a National league game at Shibe Park, saw the Phillies trip the New York Giants twice, 3-2 and 3-1.

What's making the team tick? Observers say it's a combination of Cox's enthusiasm and the quiet leadership of Manager Bucky Harris and Coach Earl Whitfield.

Western Invasion Fears
Harris, the "boy wonder" of 1924 when he led the Washington senators to their first American league pennant, has quietly inspired many of the players. Under him the club has become a "good hustling ball club," as one player expressed it. The atmosphere on the field, on the bench and in the clubhouse has changed from don't-care depression to let's-get-in-there-and-beat-those-guys.

"We won't be a setup for any team this year," said veteran pitcher Si Johnson. "We've got a good shortstop in Babe Dahlgren (he used to be a first baseman) and a fine fielding first sacker in Jimmy Wasdell. Danny Murtagh, Merrill May, Earl Naylor, Ron Northey and Danny Litwhiler are playing great ball. And look how Whitfield has brought the best out of Jack Kraus."

But older Phillie fans, perhaps taking a tip from Berlin, are keeping their fingers crossed:

"They're waiting for that first invasion from the west."

WEEK-END SPORTS IN BRIEF
(By The Associated Press)
Baltimore—Count Fleet, backed down to odds of 3 to 20, won 53rd running of Preakness by eight lengths, doing mile and three-sixteenths in 1:57 2/5. Blue Swords was second and Vincennes third. Count Fleet, ridden by Johnny Longden, picked up check of $43,190.

Montreal—Pvt. Johnny Greco, 19-year-old Montrealer, outpointed Terry Young, New York, in 10-round bout and was told by Mike Jacobs he would meet Beau Jack for New York state lightweight title this summer.

Famous Zouaves Now Have WAAC Member
Pittsburgh, May 10 (AP)—First Lieut. Sylvia Marsili of the WAACs, a former Pittsburgh public school teacher, drew a rare honor recently when she was received officially into the first regiment of the French Army—the famous Zouaves.

In a letter to her parents here, she said she was made an honorary member of the unit at a four-hour luncheon where she was treated to "more fancy dishes" than she had ever seen and had the red fez, symbol of the original Zouave membership, placed on her head by a French colonel.

Lieutenant Marsili was one of the first Pittsburgh WAACs to arrive on foreign soil and reportedly the first American woman ever honored by the French regiment.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, May 10 (AP)—The title, "For This We Fight," has been picked for the new series of 26 Saturday broadcasts on NBC which are being designed to point up discussion on peace-time problems while concentrating primarily on winning the war. Both civic and government leaders have been invited to speak.

The broadcasts will be introduced on June 5 by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who is to talk on "Underwriting Victory."
